

There is no epidemic of bad teeth!

WHO TOLD YOU THAT YOU NEED FLUORIDE?

THE FACTS

- In Europe, only the UK (in practice, in England) and Ireland impose water fluoridation on the public.
- Over the past thirty years the incidence of dental caries has fallen spectacularly in almost EVERY country in the EU, regardless of whether they permit fluoridation or not.
- Yet the Chief Dental Officer claims repeatedly that “We have the best teeth in Europe!”
- There is absolutely no biochemical NEED for fluoride – it is not a nutrient, but a poison. It repairs slightly damaged teeth – but with inferior material that is more easily damaged and stained.
- 'Natural' does not mean safe – arsenic cadmium and mercury are all 'natural'
- In fluoridated Ireland, 37% of the population now have dental fluorosis
- In fluoridated Canada, the dental service now spends more money on repairing fluoride-damaged teeth than it does on treating ordinary dental caries.
